

FAQ'S

What is The Public Tutoring Initiative?

Tutor Mauri Artz desired to give access to her proven ACT methods to any student looking to improve his or her ACT score. She wanted to make an affordable, successful course, available to everyone, and the Public Tutoring Initiative was born. For the past fifteen years, Mauri, who was a practicing lawyer and author has been tutoring students for the ACT at fees up to $150 per hour.

It always bothered her that many of the students that could benefit the most from her techniques were the very ones who could not afford it. Mauri has profited from this "upside down" system, but now, she is devoted full time to giving back. She formed The Public Tutoring Initiative as a Benefit Corporation which, by law must as part of its purpose, "do good for society."

What is a Benefit Corporation?

The Public Tutoring Initiative is a fully registered Benefit Corporation. By law, they are required to provide a material social benefit and we are to incorporate "doing good for society" in their decision-making process. Their mission is to make access to college easier, by bringing high quality ACT test prep to students who previously could not afford this level of tutoring.

What does the course cover?

The course covers each section of the ACT: English, Math, Reading, Science, and Essay. You will receive all the information that you need to do better on the test. You will learn grammar rules that are most important, math skills that you must know, special techniques to read faster and to answer more questions right, and strategies to practice for the science section. We will also help you prepare for the essay. You will watch videos that teach you the material, and you will be able to print out an official ACT test to practice your new skills. Additionally, your questions will be answered during the live weekly webcast.

May I access it as often as I want?

Yes, you will be able to watch the videos as much as you wish while your year-long subscription is active or anytime on the ACT® course tablet. Once you begin watching your first video online, you will have one year to study as often as you like, and you will be able to tune into all the live sessions. Remember that is against policy to share this course with anyone outside of First Tee

What are the "live" sessions?

Once a week, a tutor will give a live streaming lesson that can be accessed from the website www.publictutoring.org . She will try to answer as many questions as possible that were emailed to her during the week. The site will post the topics that will be covered during the live session that week. You can access the live stream through the site once you log in.